

Group critique For Tucherish Sundown

Second was a black and tan King Charles Spaniel, Tucherish Sundown, who is still young and has it all ahead of him. His head is quite glorious with superbly domed and filled skull and beautifully cushioned muzzle, he has ample bone and his topline is simply flawless. He moves so steadily and unlike so many in the breed he holds himself with great dignity and presence. In this very slow maturing breed he still needs to body up a little, and when he does he should have a great future. He is a truly exciting prospect.

Andrew Brace